

Printed from

THE TIMES OF INDIA

Nilekanis pledge half of wealth for philanthropy

Agencies | Nov 21, 2017, 06.05 AM IST

BENGALURU: Infosys co-founder and tech billionaire Nandan Nilekani and his wife Rohini Nilekani have joined 'The Giving Pledge', an elite network of the world's wealthiest individuals committing half their wealth to philanthropy.

The Giving Pledge website uploaded Nilekanis' letter signing up for the cause.

The letter said, "We thank Bill and Melinda for creating this unique opportunity to realise a moral aspiration inspired by the Bhagwad Gita - Karmanye Va dhikaraste Ma Phaleshu Kadachana, Ma karma phalaheturbhurma Te Sangostvakarmani." "We have a right to do our duty, but no automatic right to the fruits from the doing. It is critical that we do not slip into inaction fearing that we may not be able to reap direct reward. It is to this ideal that we pledge," it added. Later Bill Gates tweeted on his handle about Nilekanis' pledge on his Twitter handle on Monday.

"I'm amazed by how @NandanNilekani has lent his entrepreneurial passion to philanthropy. I'm delighted to welcome him and his wife Rohini to the Giving Pledge," Gates tweeted.

The Giving Pledge was created by Bill and Melinda Gates and Warren Buffett in August 2010. The Nilekanis are the fourth Indians after Wipro chairman Azim Premji, Biocon chairman Kiran Mazumdar-Shaw and Sobha Developers Chairman Emeritus P N C Menon to sign up for The Giving Pledge. Talking about their initiatives as EkStep, Nilekanis' letter said "We are excited by our initial experimentation with societal platforms in early education and see immense potential for scaling up diverse solutions." They also said their philanthropic efforts would be directed at societal platforms, which are open, technology-enabled ecosystems or nurturing networks.

"Our philanthropic journey of two decades has been led by Rohini's passion and commitment!" Nilekani tweeted. Nilekani recently returned to Infosys as non-executive chairman after the exit of Sikka as Infosys CEO. Sikka quit following a long-standing feud between board and founders, especially N R Narayana Murthy, who had raised concern over falling corporate governance practices at Infosys.

Read this story in Marathi