The author brings together titans of industry and leaders of civil society to explore eight themes relevant to India's development. Based on her 2008 TV show, they explore middle ground between divisions polarising business and voluntary sectors. Among others, Anand Mahindra and Medha Patkar discuss land acquisition; Mukesh Ambani and R K Pachauri debate decentralised energy; Sunil Mittal and Aruna Roy imagine how to enhance employability of India's labour force and Yogi Deveshwar and Sunita Narain explore how industry can become more environmentally sustainable.
